Trading in Shares of Safeway Common Stock Between the Record Date and the Distribution Date

From the Record Date and up to and including the Distribution Date, there will be two markets in Safeway common stock, a "regular way" market and a "when-issued" market. Shares of Safeway common stock that trade in the regular way market will carry an entitlement to the special stock dividend of shares of Blackhawk Class B common stock. Therefore, if you own shares of Safeway common stock and sell those shares in the regular way market prior to or on the Distribution Date, you also will be selling your right to receive the special stock dividend of shares of Blackhawk Class B common stock. The New York Stock Exchange authorized a when-issued market for Safeway common stock, which commenced on April 1, 2014. Shares of Safeway common stock trading in the when-issued market under the symbol "SWYWI" (identified as "SWY-WI" on certain websites) do so without the right to receive shares of Blackhawk Class B common stock in connection with the Distribution. Starting on April 15, 2014 (the business day following the Distribution of the Class B shares of Blackhawk) the "regular way" market for Safeway will be trading "ex" or without the entitlement of the Class B shares of Blackhawk. In addition, the "when issued" market of Safeway ("SWYWI") will no longer be available.

A when-issued market for the shares of Blackhawk Class B common stock to be distributed in the distribution also commenced on April 1, 2014 on the NASDAQ Global Select Market under the symbol "HAWKV." Other than trading occurring in such when-issued market, shares of Blackhawk Class B common stock are not currently traded on any stock exchange. Starting on April 15, 2014 (the business day following the distribution of the Class B shares of Blackhawk) the Blackhawk Class B common stock is expected to begin trading in the "regular way" on the NASDAQ Global Select Market under the symbol "HAWKB," and the "when issued" market of Blackhawk Class B common stock ("HAWKV") will no longer be available.

If you sell your shares of Safeway common stock prior to or on the Distribution Date, you also may be selling your right to receive the special stock dividend of shares of Blackhawk Class B common stock. You are encouraged to consult your broker or financial advisor regarding the specific implications of selling Safeway common stock prior to or on the Distribution Date.

U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences

As previously announced, Safeway and Albertsons have announced an agreement under which AB Acquisition LLC, an affiliate of Albertsons, will acquire Safeway (the "Merger"). Assuming that the acquisition of Safeway by AB Acquisition LLC is completed as contemplated by the Agreement and Plan of Merger entered into by Safeway and AB Acquisition LLC on March 6, 2014, it is expected that the stock dividend will constitute a taxable distribution to Safeway and Safeway's stockholders for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In anticipation of the completion of the Merger, Safeway intends to treat the special stock dividend as a taxable distribution to Safeway stockholders for U.S. federal income tax purposes, including for purposes of the U.S. federal tax withholding rules. Accordingly, the amount of the special stock dividend otherwise payable to certain Safeway stockholders, including non-U.S. stockholders, will be reduced in connection with any applicable withholding taxes. The U.S. federal income tax consequences of the special stock dividend are described in greater detail in the information statement being mailed to stockholders and filed with the SEC on Form 8-K on or about the date of this press release.

This information will also be posted under the Investor Relations tab on Safeway's website at www.safeway.com/investor_relations and on Blackhawk's website at www.blackhawknetwork.com.

Safeway stockholders are urged to contact their tax advisors regarding this transaction and the related tax consequences, including potential withholding tax consequences. Registered stockholders may contact Computershare at the telephone numbers above regarding withholding requirements and any related required documentation. Beneficial stockholders who hold their Safeway shares through an institution such as a brokerage firm, bank or other institution, should contact the broker, bank or other institution where they maintain their account regarding the pending distribution regarding withholding requirements and any related required documentation.
